

IMPORTANT NOTE:

Somehow during the writing of this manual, I managed to get artsy and create one page that looked more like it was formatted for a magazine advertisement than a page in this manual. It doesn't fit into the cosmetics of this manual at all and didn't fit into the flow... But I like it. And...it has information needed for this manual. And I didn't want to change it. So I included it. Right here. Continue on to see it. And have no fear. The manual returns back to its more boring layout after this one page. Sorry.
